Anthony P. Schirripa, FAIA, Elected At-large Director

Anthony P. Schirripa, FAIA, from AIA New York Chapter/AIA New York State, was elected an At-large Director at AIA Convention 2015 in Atlanta. The Regional Director of New York from 2012 to 2014, he currently serves on the Secretary's Advisory Committee and the Governance Task Force. In addition to his term as President of the AIA New York Chapter in 2010, Schirripa served as First Vice President of the AIA New York Chapter in 2009, as Vice President for Public Outreach in 2008, as Treasurer from 2005 to 2008 and served on the Chapter's Finance Committee from 2000 to 2004.

Since 1995, he has been the Chairman and CEO at Mancini Duffy, a New York–based architecture and interior design firm. Before that, he was a Vice President at Gensler for 15 years.

"I have dedicated the last three years to contributing to the restructure of AIA's governance and formation of a plan to better serve our membership," he says. "Now we have to implement, and we must elect leadership that will realize our shared vision. We have important work ahead of us: AIA must provide tools to grow our practices, to raise public awareness of the importance of good design and the profession, and prepare for the future by better engaging with Associate members and students."

Schirripa received a B.Ed. and B.Sc. in Environmental Design and Building Construction from Texas A&M University.
